PARTY DOCTORS.

The San Francisco Examiner says editorially that the Democratic party will be reorganized. We will wait patiently while the work goes on. When it is finished it is to be hoped the monarch will let the country know. A reorganization of the party would be very much like an improvement upon nature; any change would destroy the original work without producing anything that has life in it. The work is so near perfect now that any attempt to improve upon it will bring discredit upon the doctors and will materially effect the health and life of the party.

A party that sustained Cleveland's second administration and lived through the ordeal does not require the aid of political doctors. The very best thing that can be done for the party is to let it alone. It is not the first time in the last forty years that those possessed of superior political knowledge have concluded to reorganize the party, but the work of reorganization has not been successfully entered upon to the present, nor will it be taken in hand at this time by any sensible Democrat. There is an occasional upstart who undertakes to improve upon the work and wisdom of the man who was born at Bethlehem in Judea, but the original work remains without any improvement or change, and it will likely continue as it was given by its author till there is a change in the order of things as arranged.

The Democratic party in its political system and principles is as near perfect as it can be made to meet the requirements of a Republic and the demands of that part of the people who are in favor of retaining a Republican form of government in the United States. When the writer becomes an Imperialist he will surely insist upon changing the form and principles of the Democratic party to meet new conditions and to aid in securing them, but so long as he remains a Republican and an American he will oppose any reorganization of the Democratic party.

CONVINCE A MAN THROUGH HIS POCKET.

There is much difference in opinion about what should be done in the future by the Democracy. There is but one course to pursue which must include an aggressive policy against the issues presented by the Republican party. There is not one of them that does not in some way make the people subservient to organized capital, which will continue to impose upon labor in a direct way and upon the general industry of the country, burdens that will in the future become intolerable for the people to support.

The late election proves that the people are not fully aware of the consequences that will follow a continued control by organized capital of the government. It will be the work and office of the Democratic party to protect the masses against the aggressive use of organized capital under the character of commercialism. It will require time to educate the people and it will only require time to inform them through intelligent and continued effort, but it may require a financial panic to inform them of their true relation to commercialism present and future.

The time will come in the near future as business now is, which will furnish information in a very direct way respecting the position the people occupy to trusts and other forms of commercial procedure, which to the present has not had such binding effect on the body of the people as to direct their attention to the cause in a direct and intelligent manner. The old saying that a man can be better informed through his pocket than he can be informed through his head still continues to be sound logic.

RYAN SURPRISED.

Bryan is surprised at the magnitude of the political change and seems not to be able at present to arrive at any logical conclusion upon its cause. He says Republican gains in the lesser cities and in the country were more than in the larger cities, but he seems not to have made a conclusion about the influence that acted upon the voters in the smaller cities and in the country. He seems to think that the prosperity argument may have had much to do with the change in the country and in the lesser cities should be correct in his reasoning, it seems that a man of his ability should be able to form a judgment upon the cause of the change.

While he talked and argued as a patriot and statesman about the danger his country and its institutions were in, his opponents talked about prosperity and the value of calves, which would largely lead to a conclusion that the people in the country were more influenced by the value of a calf than they were over the value of their country.

There is another logical conclusion that will follow the calf value argument when applied to the smaller cities, which is that the lesser cities are more dependent upon the value of calves than the larger cities are dependent upon calf values. When these considerations are taken into connection with a prosperity argument, a just inference may be made that the value of calves presented a persuasiveness to the average voter that an argument overflowing with patriotism and love for mankind did not have in it when addressed to them.

HAPPENINGS IN NEVADA

News of All the Counties in the State Clipped From Exchanges.

The Experiment station at the University is rapidly being finished.

The Short property at Lake Tahoe is reported as having been sold for $12,000.

L. S. Bridges defeated N. A. Stimmel for Justice of the Peace of Wadsworth by a vote of 194 to 183.

Joseph Casper, a saloon man of Carson, dropped dead of heart disease Thursday. He had been a resident of Carson for the past 27 years.

A new waterwheel has been installed at the Dexter mine at Tuscarora that provides double the power formerly had. The ore output has been increased to 140 tons daily.

A Scheme that Failed.

Charles Contry, the individual who is alleged to have stolen a check for $120 and who was captured at Verdi, adopted an ingenious plan of getting out of town. He rented two bicycles, one of which was a lady's, and chased up the road on one of them. His renting the two bicycles was evidently intended to make it appear that he was simply going out for a little spin with his lady love.

Northward Bound.

Carl and Roy Stoddard leave today for British Columbia to accept positions in a mine. The former is a graduate of the mining school of the University of Nevada and has had sufficient experience to fit him for almost any position in mine, mill or cyanide plant. We expect to hear good reports concerning them.

A Clow to the Wheel.

Ed Shaver received word concerning his stolen wheel yesterday. An Indian was seen riding a machine resembling his the morning after it was taken. The motor was headed toward Carson.

Astounded The Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of the Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. PERTINENT SUGGESTION

A Reno Merchant Is Investigating an Important Matter.

A. A. Hibbard, manager of the Co-operative store, is making investigations concerning a matter that is of vital interest to everyone who lives on the banks of the Truckee, especially in this city and Wadsworth.

When these investigations are completed Mr. Hibbard will call the attention of the public to the necessity for disposition of Reno sewage other than dumping it into the river, and the best method of proceeding in the matter.

Mr. Hibbard has written to Ex-Mayor Woodward of Santa Rosa and has received a description of the system of disposing of sewage in that city, where a perfect system was recently installed and is being operated at trifling expense.

In a stream as small as the Truckee it is decidedly unsanitary to discharge sewage. The danger is especially great as regards disseminating typhoid and other disease germs.

Besides, the product of sewage-treating establishments commands the highest price for fertilizing certain crops. The income from this source should be sufficient to operate the plant after its construction, the cost of which would not be excessive. Nearly every city in California the size of Reno has a sewage farm or other method of handling sewage. The Truckee is not a navigable stream and, therefore, it is illegal to make it a receptacle for sewage. Unless this city adopts some modern method of handling the sewer waste, it may get tangled up in an expensive lawsuit someday.

The Day We Celebrate.

The Governor has issued the following proclamation:

In grateful recognition of our indebtedness to, and dependence upon, the Giver of all blessings, I, Reinhold Sadler, Governor of the State of Nevada, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November, A. D. 1900, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, and I do earnestly request all the citizens of our State to render thanks to God for his care and goodness to us as a people. I would especially enjoin all those who have abundance to give substantial evidence of their thankfulness by remembering the poor and unfortunate on this day.

THE KIGER KILLING

Coroner's Jury Practically Exonerates H. M. Clemmons.

The remains of James Kiger, who was shot and killed in Nigger Ravine by H. M. Clemmons yesterday, were brought to town and an inquest held last night. After hearing the evidence of the different witnesses, which was altogether favorable to Clemmons, the jury brought in the verdict that Kiger had come to his death by a pistol wound inflicted by H. M. Clemmons, and that Clemmons' act was a justifiable homicide.

Clemmons had his preliminary examination last night immediately after the coroner's jury had rendered its verdict and was released under $10,000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. It is likely that under the character of the evidence to be presented the grand jury will set Clemmons free altogether.

Clemmons had a narrower escape from death than was at first supposed. One of Kiger's bullets was found embedded in a pocket book in Clemmons' side pocket. But for the pocket book the bullet would in all likelihood have penetrated Clemmons' abdomen.—Report.

Inconvenient Schedule.

A new time card has gone into effect on the Central Pacific railroad. The time of No. 3 has been changed from 1:20 a. m. to 8:20 a. m. Instead of improving matters it makes things worse, as all three west-bound trains pass in a bunch.

Although nothing official has been given out, the railroad men believe that the time of No. 3 will be changed to 10:20 p. m. in a few days.

State Returns.

A compilation of returns from the entire State will be published in the next issue of the JOURNAL. A few precincts are yet to hear from. The largest majority was given to Judge Fitzgerald. Bryan received about 2500 majority and Congressman Newlands about 1800. Booher has been chosen short term regent. The vote for Evans and Turrill is close.

The boys will go against Stanford on the 14th and Berkeley on the 17th. Although, owing to the accidents which befell some of their best players, they are not over-confident of success, they will put up the games of their lives and if they lose it will be only because they were out classed. The proposed game with the Oregon University has been declared off.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as S. J.
